

Twan Jones is a native of Oklahoma. Born in Tulsa, Mr. Jones attended Tulsa Public Schools receiving his certificate of diploma from the prestige's Booker T. Washington High School. Mr. Jones enjoys discussing his days as Drum Major in the T-Connection Marching Band while at Booker T.

With the influence of his parents and High School Counselors, Mr. Jones enrolled at Langston University, one of 110 H.B.C.U.'s in the U.S.A declaring his major as Economics. Mr. Jones likes to refer to Langston University as a learning experience of a lifetime. Enrolled in one of the many fascinating programs at L.U., Mr. Jones traveled to Cairo, Egypt participating in a two-week student exchange program in the summer of 1990.

Business Management was the first task for Mr. Jones after Langston accepting work as entry-level management. Mr. Jones experiences include: licensed insurance agent in personal and commercial lines of coverage. Mr. Jones has generously volunteered his time to organizations such as: Tulsa Branch NAACP (Vice President), Christian Ministerial Alliance (Treasurer), and The City of Tulsa (2003 Sales Tax Overview Committee), DMC Reduction Initiative (as Tulsa County Coordinator for 3 years), Parent Teacher Student Association President (P.T.S.A), Sarah's Residential Living along with numerous others. Mr. Jones believes his role of support in the different administrations, will keep him abreast of varies management styles in efforts to build stronger communication practices to diverse groups.
